Fifth Annual Rochester Roast A Success

The Rochester Land Trust held its Fifth Annual Pig Roast on Sunday, September 15 despite the threat of rain and competition from the Patriots game. As usual, Sperry Tents provided tents and the First Congregational Church added an extra tent to keep The Relics out of the rain. The Relics are a well-known Rochester band that just celebrated its 50th anniversary. Thanks to Ken, Gary and Wayne.

Not only did they have good music and good food — barbecued pork shoulder, cole slaw, beans, rolls, salad (from Jonathan's Organic) and fresh tomatoes from several Rochester gardens — but they also had a great time talking about land conservation in Rochester. The big news this year is that the Rochester Land Trust acquired a conservation restriction on 114 acres of Rounseville family land in the Mattapoisett River Valley.

The raffle was very competitive and a great success. Thanks to all the contributors: Anne Bramhall gave a yoga class; Megan Correia-Bittner (Bennett Farm) gave private riding lessons; Sunnynook Farm gave bird seed; Movies & More gave a "tea time" basket and movie; Violet's Bakery (a/k/a Maureen Sperry) gave a chocolate cake to be baked to order.

David Smith, CMT, gave a one-hour therapeutic massage; Lloyd's Market not only provided drinks and watermelon at cost, but also gave two $25 gift certificates and a gift package of Canadian Club! The Rochester Golf Club gave four 18-hole rounds of golf; Lincoln Rounseville, John MacGregor and Carol Tirrel gave half a cord of firewood delivered; New Millennium Reiki gave a reiki session; the Mattapoisett Inn gave brunch for two; Mike and Roxanne Costa gave two $35 L.L. Bean gift certificates; Cervelli's Farm stand donated a $10 gift certificate and the Mayflower Bank gave a new account set-up; Rod McCollister's ropes were a real hit; there was serious competition for horse leads, tow ropes, and dock lines among folks who don't own horses or boats!

Gary Laboa not only plays fine music, but he auctions contributions, drawing money from folks who never intended to bid. They had some traditional auction items for which they are very appreciative. Steve Sperry donated an air tour of Rochester; Koczera Discount Oil gave 100 gallons of heating oil; Marion Chiropractic let people bid on a spinal exam and adjustment; and Mike and Roxanne Costa gave a $100 L.L. Bean gift certificate. There were also some new items, including framed prints from Deb and Dan Clark; a Body Wrap from Sea

On the cover: The "Dog Days of Summer" may be over, but this one-year-old Yellow Lab named "Margaux" is taking advantage of the remaining nice weather to sit outside and read his favorite news source, The Wanderer. His owners, Fransje and Nick Zuccherro of Mattapoisett, always make sure to read it first before Margaux gets a hold of it. (Photo by and courtesy of Fransje Zuccherro).

Wrapture; and a needlepoint pillow from Maureen Kennedy.

The most unusual auction item was the Outhouse that won the blue ribbon at the recent Rochester Country Fair. Built by Lynnea Walker, Beverly Pierce, Cathy Mendoza, and Lisa Bacchiocchi, everyone agreed it was priceless — can't wait to see what winner Dan Kennedy does with it! It drew small children all during the music and dinner. There is certainly something fascinating about a red, white and blue outhouse!

Finally, thanks to the First Congregational Church for allowing the use of their lawn and their kitchen. For more information about the Rochester Land Trust or Pig Roast, please contact Maureen Sperry at 508-763-4741.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

September 17, 2002

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, September 17 at 7:00 pm by Chairman pro tem David K. Pierce. Also present were Selectman Andrew Jeffrey, Town Administrator Julia Enroth-Whitlock, and Secretary Helene Craver. Selectman Benjamin Bryant was not present for the meeting.

The board first signed and approved various treasury and payroll warrants for the week and voted to approve the minutes of the August 20 (revised) meeting, the minutes of the Personnel Board meeting held on August 28, and the September 3 Selectmen's meeting.

At 7:05 pm, the board opened a pole hearing to extend a utility pole line along Parlowtown Road to provide new electrical service. Ken Horne was present on behalf of Verizon. Mr. Horne explained this was simply a line switch from one pole to another. There being no objections to the relocation, the board unanimously voted to approve the request as submitted.

the board at 7:10 pm to sign anticipatory bond notes for Sippican School. According to Ms. Blanchette, the lowest bidder on the bonds was State Street Bank, which split the bonds — one for $7 million and one for $2.9 million. "We ended up with interest rates of 1.48 (and) 1.49 percent," she said. With that, the board unanimously voted to sign and approve the bond notes.

At 7:15 pm the board met with members of the School Committee and Finance Committee (FinCom) to meet and greet newly-hired ORR School Superintendent Dr. William Cooper.

"We thought it was important for Dr. Cooper to meet the key people in town," said School Committee Chairman Susan Grosart. "We are just so delighted as a School Committee ... to welcome (him)."

After meeting all the gather town officials, Dr. Cooper was asked for his impression of the school district after a mere 30 days on the job.

"I'm very pleased with the programs in the school, I'm delighted," Dr. Cooper said. "This is a strong school program in all three towns. You have a lot to be proud of ... I think you've invested a lot in your school programs and it shows. The building projects are a major challenge and they're going to continue to be. The best way to look at the projects is just to imagine what terrific facilities the school district will have when it's finished. We're pleased with where we are."

Selectman Pierce asked Dr. Cooper what his thoughts were on regionalizing the three-town school system, given a recent study conducted by the Tri-Town League of Women Voters which recommended such a measure.

"There's certainly some advantages to (regionalization), but all three towns have to see it as an advantage to them," Dr. Cooper said. "There really has to be a strong, unanimous feeling in all three towns. I haven't been here long enough to know."

"There are advantages to regionalization ... like cutting back on the duplication of administrative services," agreed Ms. Grosart, adding that the Marion School Committee is set to take up this issue at their next meeting. "The fact that people in our regional offices get four

At 7:30 pm the board met with Margie Baldwin of the Tree Planting Committee and Tree Warden Ronald Winters regarding tree planting in town and the trimming and/or removing of trees by utility companies. It seems that the utility companies recently removed trees without contacting anyone in town. "The point of bringing (you both) here is to discuss ... how things can be improved in terms of communication," Selectman Pierce said.

Ms. Enroth-Whitlock said she contacted a representative from the utility company and advised them to contact either Ms. Baldwin or Mr. Winters in the future of such actions.

At 7:45 pm the board met with John Farnham, Chairman of the Water and Sewer Rate Committee, to discuss a proposed increase in Sewer and Water Rates. "With the impact of the debt service from the installation of both our new Ultraviolet and Disc Filters Facilities, in addition to the increased maintenance of both, we are no longer able to maintain our costs vs. revenue and are recommending a rate increase for our sewer customers," Mr. Farnham wrote in a memo to the board.

The proposed overall increase of about 54 percent means the typical Marion water/sewer user will see their bill jump from roughly $300 to $450 on average.

"When all is said and done, and the fixes have come online, we're looking at the rates about doubling," Finance Committee (FinCom) Chairman Lee Hayes said.

"It's way too early to know what the figures are going to be. This increase is the first bite of that doubling. The next bite will happen in three years or so when the debt for the new plant upgrade begins to hit us."

"We're quite sure we can hold this for three years at this point, with the new capital project coming online," Mr. Farnham agreed.

Mr. Farnham also suggested they make water conservation kits currently used in Wareham available to water and sewer users through the DPW. "There are several gadgets in there which help to conserve water and save money," Mr. Farnham said.

With that, the board unanimously voted to approve the rate increases as recommended by the Water and Sewer Rate Committee, and also voted to offer the water conservation kits to all water/sewer users with the next billing cycle.

In other matters, the board:

- Received a letter from residents along Lady Slipper Lane regarding the Delano Road sewer extension project. "Their access is on Lady Slipper Lane, but their legal address is on Delano Road," Ms. Enroth-Whitlock said. "They are requesting an exemption from having to tie into the sewer system. Legally, I'm not sure what that would entail. They were told as a first step to put something in writing for the board."

- Received a proposal from Camp, Dresser & McKee (CDM) for design improvements to the Front Street Pumping Station at an estimated cost of $85,000.

"I thought the price was high," Mr. Hayes said. "It seems to me like Engineering 101."

- Voted to not install sprinklers in the main building of the Wastewater Treatment Plant upgrade project, at an estimated cost of $21,000. Although Jack Sheehan of CDM recommended the sprinkler installations, these were deemed "low risk areas" by Bob Merlino and FinCom Chairman Lee Hayes, both of whom felt comfortable with forgoing the sprinkler installation in this portion of the project.

- Voted to award the Creek Road Reconstruction Project to low bidder Stephen Ando Paull Contractor, Inc. for a sum of $439,995 upon a recommendation from Department of Public Works (DPW) Superintendent Rob Zora. The board voted to award the low bidder as recommended with the caveat that there are sufficient funds available and that the project be completed by Thanksgiving as originally planned.

- Voted to postpone a planned Historic District By-Law article from the upcoming November 4 Special Town Meeting warrant to allow further time to study the pros and cons of the issue. Selectman Benjamin Bryant sent a memo to the board suggesting the article be withdrawn for further study in the aftermath of a recent public meeting on the issue.

- Agreed to contract with a Sealer of Weights and Measures from the state in lieu of hiring a local person. "Our alternative was to hire our own Sealer of Weights and Measures," Ms. Enroth-Whitlock said. "I looked into some of the area towns and having one of them also serve as our Sealer of Weights and Measures, but none were interested. The state has offered to continue to do these services for a fee, at an estimated cost of $2,000 a year. We can probably recoup the money by charging an inspection fee, so we'll need to set a fee schedule." Ms. Enroth-Whitlock said the town has about five gas stations and eight scanners to inspect annually.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:50 pm.

Chamberlain said. "I have been on it in the past ... it's very arrogant (to appoint someone else)."

"We don't buy appointments," Chairman Ryan said. "We don't need to know how much money you gave ... it's not germane to the issue."

"I would like to give (Ms. Chamberlain) the opportunity to express why she's interested in being appointed to the board," Selectman Nunes said. "Whoever gets picked should have an opportunity to express why they're interested."

But his fellow board members felt Mr. Hall was equally qualified and had expressed interest in the position. As such, the board voted to appoint Mr. Hall via majority vote, with Selectman Nunes abstaining.

A scheduled 7:05 pm Police Brotherhood Grievance was postponed to next week's meeting.

Richard Wisniewski of the Personnel Board next noted receipt of a letter from Jill Bodeau of the Council on Aging (COA) regarding clarification of the personnel by-laws in hiring someone upon a recommendation of the department head.

"I've been on the Personnel Board for two years ... we have always considered the recommendations of the department head as being very essential to the selection," Mr. Wisniewski said. "She stated that department heads should know what is best-needed in the department — that is true. That's why we do have preliminary meetings with department heads. We have always consulted with them. Her concern was with the Personnel Board making the hiring decision with the department head."

At 7:25 pm the board met with Nancy Yeatts from the Lakeville Environmental Staff to present the board with a copy of the management plan recently completed for the Assawompsett Pond Complex Bioreserve (APC) area which includes open space along Betty's Neck. Both the board and former Selectman Fred Underhill expressed concern that Rochester wasn't asked to participate in this project at the ground level.

"It's always been a beef of mine that they seem to forget both (water) plants are in Rochester," Mr. Underhill said. "About 800 acres is in Rochester ... probably as much land as in any of the other towns and New Bedford was the one who refused to have anything to do with us. I'm not knocking you, but there's a lot of history that goes into this."

Ms. Yeatts said she was here to invite Rochester to participate in the management plan. With that, the board unanimously voted to appoint Mr. Underhill as the town's representative to the management team.

The board next approved the Open Session and Executive Session minutes of the September 9 meeting, and then signed and approved the Special Town Meeting warrant for October 7 with their recommendations. The board voted to recommend all articles on the 13-article warrant, with the sole exception of Article 12 which requested $2.5 million to renovate the Plumb Memorial Library.

Under incoming correspondence, the board:

- Received a $254,109 payment from SEMASS in lieu of taxes for the month of August.
- Letter from Highway Surveyor Jeff Eldridge regarding employees being transported in town-owned vehicles. According to the Massachusetts Interlocal Insurance Agency (MIIA), a policy should be in place regarding such practice. Mr. Eldridge has made his employees aware of this fact.
- Letter of resignation from Pamela J. Robinson, who is stepping down from the Rochester Historical Commission.
- Notification from Harold Mendoza of Dighton regarding 34.38 acres of property located at 84 New Bedford Road which is under a Chapter 61A restriction. Mr. Mendoza is offering the town its right-of-first-refusal on the property, which will be sold and removed from the 61A classification.

- Letter of interest from Herb Webb who wants to serve on the Local Scholarship Committee.

- Memo from Town Accountant Claudette Coutu requesting to use storage space at the Police Station for some of her office files.

To that end, the board began discussing both plans to empty and sort through the material currently locked in the downstairs Town Hall vault and plans to reallocate office space in the Town Hall now that the Council on Aging (COA) has officially moved to their new building on Dexter Lane.

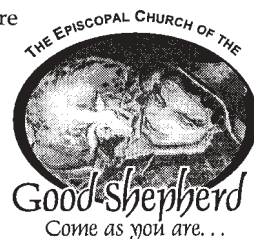

As for sorting through the files within the vault, Mr. Huntoon noted he is making arrangements with the Police Department to have several youths assist in this task as a required community service project. Once they are made available to him, they will move all the boxes of material from the vault into the Conference Room to be “Sometimes I find being a single mother difficult and overwhelming. The daily demands of home making, nurturing and disciplining your children, being a wage earner and bill payer - all these can leave you looking for help and not knowing where to turn.

Voices of the Church

You want to give your children everything they deserve, especially the father they deserve. You want to find the right answers for the questions and the strength to make difficult decisions. Who will take care of the children? Who will take care of you?

At Good Shepherd I've found that God will, the Father of us all - sorted.

As for the now-vacant COA office, Chairman Ryan suggested to relocate the Board of Selectmen and Town Administrator's office to that office, set up the Town Planner and Conservation Secretary in the front office, and move the Administrative Assistant to the current Town Administrator's office.

Several department heads and residents present, however, balked at moving both the Town Administrator and Administrative Assistant — two of the most sought-after positions in Town Hall — to a remote, back office. Assessor John Mello felt this would disrupt the smooth flow of traffic which is currently coming in and out of Town Hall.

Others questioned proposed plans to first expand the Town Hall and then to buy or rent a modular building to be placed alongside Town Hall for additional office space.

Chairman Ryan noted they discussed this matter with the FinCom last week and they jointly agreed to place a non-binding referendum question on next year's Annual Town Election ballot to gauge public interest in either proposal. "If we don't have the support of the voters, there's no way we can get anything accomplished," she said. "This building was built 100 years ago (when) we had 1,500 people in town. We have about 4,800 people now. We are required to have much more (room) for paperwork and files — not to mention people."

After further discussion and debate, the board finally agreed to relocate Conservation Agent Laurell Farinon, Regional Sanitarian Karen Walega, and their assistants to the office formerly occupied by the COA and leave both Mr. Huntoon and Ms. Lafreniere in their current offices. This would free up an upstairs room which may be used as a conference / meeting area.

At 9:12 pm the board unanimously voted to go into Executive Session to discuss a pending personnel matter. They would thereafter adjourn for the evening.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

These are indeed parlous times. We as a nation are beset by dark forces from within and on many international fronts. From the bad taste of the recent most disgraceful presidency in national history, to the degeneration of a large part of academia into Marxist advocacy, political correctness, and multiculturalism, politicians scrambling for life incumbency and enrichment at severe loss of fiscal propriety, the degradation of moral uprightness amongst the public generally, not to mention the economic correction and the war on terrorism which two events I, for one, are sure we can handle as we have such events many times before.

It's picking our way through the obfuscation by some evil, more and more who are uninformed about history, but the most among us who are simply disinterested or cavalier "me mes" about the wonderful country which we are blessed to

MYAA Meeting

The Mattapoisett Youth Activities Association (MYAA) held its first open meeting last Thursday evening — the first since last June. The meeting was lightly attended, but many topics were discussed.

First on the agenda was the Treasurer's report and as always Bruce Lemieux was the epitome of professionalism. The report was voted on and accepted. Anyone interested in a copy of the report or curious about the financial standings is welcome to contact Bruce and he will supply you with a copy.

The next item on the agenda was the topic of open meetings versus Board of Directors Meetings. Apparently, there is some misunderstanding here. Tom Muldoon addressed the floor and explained that during Board of Directors meetings, which are private, sensitive subjects are discussed and voted on. Many times people helping the MYAA choose to be anonymous or asked that the subject matter not be made public immediately. Other times until a topic is reviewed and voted on it is not opened up to the general public. At open meetings encouraged suggestions, questions, even criticisms are encouraged. They are then taken under advisement and if necessary voted on at a Board meeting.

Mid-Day Madness was the next item. The MYAA is considering a Mid-Day Madness kick off celebration for basketball season. The board felt that mid day would be more suitable as opposed to the traditional midnight madness. This way the coaches can make it to the festivities. Laura Lanagan and her Opening Day Celebration was such a remarkable and heartwarming event that the board felt compelled to do something for basketball season. The MYAA is looking for volunteers to "chair" this event and can contact the board at the next open meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall on October 3 at 7:00 pm.

Land was the final topic of discussion. Many parcels are being evaluated for a recreational space, but the truth is the evaluation is a long and laborious task. The board is still looking and the discovery process is lengthy.

Please remember to join in on the discussion on the first Thursday of each month at the Knights of Columbus Hall at 7:00 pm. The MYAA will be holding its next Open Meeting on October 3 at 7:00 pm at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

District Attorney in Rochester

Jonathan Philbrook, Craig Parker and a number of other Rochester residents are welcoming Plymouth County District Attorney Tim Cruz to Rochester on Saturday, September 21 at the Rochester Bakery and Café. The public is invited to this free event to meet District Attorney Cruz from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm.

Mr. Cruz was in Rochester just a few weeks ago participating in the Rochester Country Fair and then marching in the parade. He said: "I had an opportunity to shake a lot of hands and briefly meet a number of people during the parade. I look forward to being able to talk a bit longer with residents, so they can find out more about who I am and what I stand for."

Tim Cruz has been District Attorney for nearly a year, having succeeded Mike Sullivan. He has 18 years' experience in criminal law, first as a prosecutor under District Attorney Bill O'Malley, then as one of the top criminal defense lawyers in Plymouth County. He was raised in West Bridgewater and now lives in Marshfield

CONTROL YOUR OWN DESTINY

I know it doesn't do much good now if you scold yourself for renting rather than buying your first home 4 or 5 years ago, but now may be the time to reconsider. The benefits of home ownership aren't a secret any longer. Most young couples realize that, to a large extent, their future financial security is dependant upon owning their own home.

As a homeowner, you can expect that your new home will appreciate in value. After the NEXT 5 YEARS, you will look at an increased value with a big smile. You will see the reduction in the principal amount you have borrowed as you make each monthly payment. You will also receive the tax sheltering benefits of deducting your mortgage interest and property tax payments. In addition, you will begin to enjoy the prestige of ownership and knowing that YOU -- not your landlord -- control your own housing destiny.

TICKS

Last fall, my dog would come inside with 10-20 ticks a day. How can I stop that from happening this year?

Frontline is a product that will kill wood ticks, deer ticks as well as fleas, on dogs and cats for a month. It is available from your veterinarian as drops or spray. Preventic tick collars are also effective in killing ticks that become embedded in your dogs skin.

How can I remove the ticks that he gets?

Grasp the tick near its head with tweezers or a tick spoon and pull gently. Rubber gloves or a napkin will protect your hands in case you accidentally rupture a tick that is engorged with blood.

Can tick bites make my dog sick?

Unfortunately, ticks carry Lyme Disease and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, both of which are very common in this area. The most common symptom of these diseases in dogs is lameness.

Sippican Choral Society

The Sippican Choral Society recently began weekly rehearsals at the Congregational Church Community Center in Marion.

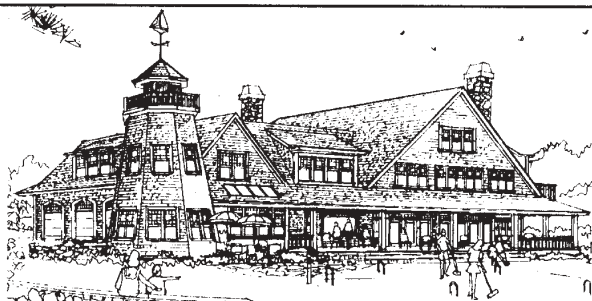

Rehearsals begin promptly at 7:30 pm every Monday evening, but singers are asked to arrive by 7:15 pm for the first rehearsal in order to register and receive music. Parking is available in the Marion General Store Parking lot on Front Street in the village.

All voices are welcome (soprano, alto, tenor, and bass), and male voices in the tenor and bass ranges are especially encouraged to sing with the chorus this year. As always, everyone who has sung with the chorus in past years will be welcomed back. The rehearsal hall is now handicapped-accessible.

Peter West, Director of the chorus, requests that both returning members and new members who, for good reason, cannot make the first rehearsal call him (508-997-3999), to let him know they intend to sing this year.

The chorus will be rehearsing for its 38th annual Christmas Concert, which will be on Sunday, December 8 and will feature as its main selection Daniel Pinkham's Christmas Cantata. A brass quintet will accompany the chorus.

Special Christmas music will follow an orchestral interlude, and includes "In Ecclesiis," by Giovanni Gabrieli, John Rutter's "Of a Rose" and his arrangement

SouthCoast Community Church

The SouthCoast Community Church would like to invite anyone in the community to be a part of one of their small groups. So what is a "small group," you ask? It's a group of 6 to 15 people who meet weekly in homes for snacks and informal Bible study. They discuss what's going on in their lives, encourage each other and build lasting friendships. Regardless of where you are on your spiritual journey you'll find a warm welcome and a place to grow. If you are interested in more information about a group, please call the church office at 508-748-3200.

The South Coast Community Church is "kicking off" a new ministry season in September and they'd love to have you check out one of their weekend services. This week Pastor Gary Taylor will deliver a message titled "SCCC Tells The Truth." In this talk he'll share from his heart why there's a church located in the tri-town for people who usually don't go to church. If you come you'll also get to watch the drama team in action and find out how to get invited to one of our September Suppers. They'd love to see you this Sunday!

MOVIE REVIEW

Snap Shot

By Rob Gonsalves
<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

One Hour Photo. Starring Robin Williams and Connie Nielsen. Directed by Mark Romanek. Running time: 98 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At AMC Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall and Flagship Cinema 12 in New Bedford.

The very name carries a whiff of defeat: Sy Parrish — “Sy” is short for Seymour, cinema’s favorite shorthand for “loser” at least since Little Shop of Horrors. In the year’s most loudly heralded bit of stunt casting, Robin Williams, dialing himself down to 1 or 2, plays this bleached lost soul Sy, who works diligently at a photo center in a suburban mall. Sy’s surroundings have been drained of color, too, as if to match his pallor, or as if to suggest that the implacable sameness of retail long ago bled the life from his veins. Nothing pumps through Sy’s body now except need, envy, and, so we gradually gather, psychosis.

One Hour Photo is a slick piece of work, with a conscientiously clenched performance by Williams, but it left me cold and sickened in all the wrong ways. First-time writer-director Mark Romanek, yet another MTV refugee, seems to have taken the entirety of his film’s ideas from a Beatles song: “He’s a real nowhere man, sitting in his nowhere land, making all his nowhere plans for nobody.” Isn’t he a bit like you and me? Well, no. Most of us do not fixate on a seemingly happy family to the extent of pasting photos of them all over the wall (the image of Sy surveying his furtive collection recalls Robert De Niro playing to a cardboard audience in The King of Comedy — one of many films Romanek burgles — and it was scarier and funnier there). Sy zeroes in on the presentable Nina (Connie Nielsen) and her darling son Jake (Dylan Smith), suffering the father of the family, Will (Michael Vartan), as a necessary irritant, but only up to a point.

It would be nice to report, as one of the ad blurbs does, that the movie does for photo developing what Psycho did for showers; certainly the premise — a wingnut stroking his gloved and trembling hands over images of you and yours — is an outsize advertisement for digital cameras. But Thomas Harris’ Red Dragon (whose new adaptation arrives next month) gave us a similarly employed killer 21 years ago; read by millions, the book didn’t frighten masses away from photo kiosks. The movie uses Sy as a watcher, an eternal outsider doomed to see, over and over again, what he cannot have — family happiness, the joy of companionship. Such a figure demands serious treatment (think what Kieslowski might’ve done with it), not the artsy audience-tweaking schlock this fundamentally is.

Any film that counts cinematographer Jeff Cronenweth (Fight Club) in its corner almost has to be eye candy, and One Hour Photo is; the contrast between the family’s warm, earth-colored furnishings and Sy’s bleak white ice cave of an apartment is so stark that you could conceivably watch the film with the sound off and still catch most of the meanings. But, unfortunately, the sound is on, and we get Sy in voice-over ruminating on the significance of photos: “Nobody takes a picture of something they want to forget.” So what does Sy want to forget? What brought him to this place in his existence? Romanek can’t be bothered with such stuff; he’s too eager to get to the climax, as it were, wherein Sy turns knife-wielding madman and terrorizes his prey into disgusting, intimate tableaux for his camera.

At times, Romanek seems scarcely different from Sy. His camera feasts on Sy’s emptiness and hardly finds time to endow Nina or Jake with personalities; they’re just nice wealthy people in danger. And therein lies One Hour Photo’s real sickness: There’s an unacknowledged and diseased class resentment rattling around inside this psychotriller, and it bounces both ways. “You have a beautiful house,” Sy tells the wary Will, “if you don’t mind my saying so.” Never mind why a family well-off enough to have a flat widescreen TV wouldn’t have gotten a digital camera years ago. One Hour Photo comes close to saying that the upper class shouldn’t trust the smiling guy behind the retail counter. It also seems to say that if the Ninas and Wills of the world get a Sy on their case, they have it coming.

At the center of all this is Robin Williams, in the final panel of his twisted anti-Patch Adams triptych this year, giving himself dutifully to the role and to the director’s “vision.” Everyone seems amazed that Williams is playing a repressed psycho, as if he hadn’t already done that just a few months ago in Insomnia, in which we were not encouraged to feel, as the sensitive Jake does, that the psycho is sad and pitiable. Williams is amped to give a classic creepy performance, but once the script has him fondling a hunting knife it’s all over for him. Romanek pushes the movie in a wrong, stupid direction, and it ends rather haplessly, with Sy suggesting that he knows something about Will that the police — and, up to this point, the audience — don’t know. Well, which is it? Is Sy a madman or a misguided guardian angel? We sit with the uncertainty of that when the lights go up, and it’s not a fine, unsettled uncertainty — it’s closer to the ruffled, violated feeling of having been manipulated for its own sake. One Hour Photo is calculated to send ‘em out buzzing, but my hunch is that it’ll be the wrong kind of buzz.

Marion Walking Tour Books

The Sippican Historical and Preservation Society has just published self-guided walking tours of two of Marion's neighborhood districts — Wharves, Wood Shingles and Whaling Captains: Sippican Village from the 17th to Early 20th Century and From Coastal Schooners to Railroad Cars: A Walking Tour of Old Landing/Old Depot Areas of Marion, MA. Both tours were written by architectural historian and preservation consultant Edward Gordon, who gave three popular guided tours of these districts during the recent celebration of Marion's 150th anniversary.

The pocket-sized fold-out brochures discuss the historical development of each area, then provide a detailed examination of the many fascinating structures that comprise these neighborhoods. It is anticipated that walking tours of other Marion neighborhoods will be developed in the future. Brochures are available at the Historical Society headquarters, 139 Front Street, at the

Spacing Constraints

By Kenneth J. Souza
news@wanderer.com

Listening recently to Rochester officials, department heads, and residents debate the ways in which to best allocate the newly-available prime office space in Town Hall once occupied by the Council on Aging, it struck me as an all-too-common problem these days in the tri-town area — especially given the steady growth in the three towns over the past decade. What strikes me as more than a little odd, however, is the fact that all three towns have been very generous in supporting and readily funding the expansion and construction of other municipal buildings and projects of late ... especially schools.

Granted, there are steadily-increasing student enrollment numbers to contend with, and no one's denying the fact that school projects on the regional and local level are sorely needed. But I'm starting to wonder if the towns aren't putting the cart before the horse, to quote an overused cliché. It seems like all three are more eager to buy brand new expensive radial tires while ignoring the more basic need for a tune-up or oil change. After all, the Town Halls serve as the daily hub of local government and the support beam for all municipal departments. Yet, whenever Town Hall renovations or expansion are suggested, the idea dies on the vine as being too costly. But there's always a couple of million sitting around in town coffers collecting dust just waiting to fund schools, libraries, senior centers and police stations — all equally worthy projects, I agree, but to what end without an efficient and well-maintained Town Hall as a base of operations?

Ironically, Rochester Tax Collector Thomas Gayoski pointed up the fact at this past week's Selectmen's meeting that the town has generously allocated thousands of dollars to purchase vast tracks of open space while Town Hall employees remain cramped up within the confines of minimal office space, struggling to find enough file storage to maintain all the records required by law.

The problem in Rochester and her sister towns of Mattapoisett and Marion is that all three Town Halls are around a century old and were built and designed when populations in each of the three hovered closer to 1,500 than today's 5,000-plus. Back then, traffic in and out of Town Hall was sparse. People came to get permits and licenses, registered to vote, and were gone. Today there are boards and committees which oversee conservation, planning, seniors, schools, health matters, financial advising, and other more intricate issues which require not only ample meeting space but detailed documents and/or computer storage facilities. Gone are the days when a couple of tables and chairs would suffice.

And even though some offices are expanding to spaces outside of Town Hall — like Rochester's Council on Aging — it only serves as a temporary band-aid and allows those who were once sharing office space or relegated to a sectioned-off corner to finally have a place to call their own.

Rochester discussed and debated several potential ways to shuffle personnel around Town Hall this past week for nearly an hour, finally settling on moving the Conservation Agent and Regional Health Sanitarian from their upstairs quarters to the former COA office adjacent to the first-floor Conference Room. This will also free up space in that rare larger room, which has become the catch-all meeting space for any issue which draws more than a couple of residents. But I fear Rochester won't be able to do much more shuffling before their (Town) House of Cards comes tumbling down ... both in terms of reallocating office space and meeting the more stringent requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) for handicap accessibility. By then, forced compliance and fines may not leave any more wiggle room ... or office space.

Maritime "Youngie" Class

The Massachusetts Maritime Academy welcomed the largest freshman class ever this fall as 266 "Youngies" entered the prestigious Regiment of Cadets as Cadet Candidates.

The freshmen-faced the daunting task of completing two-weeks of intense training during the Academy's Orientation program. During their training they were introduced to Seamanship, Firefighting, Marching Drill, Professional Development, Physical Fitness Training, Emergency Shipboard Procedures, and Military Customs and Traditions.

Among the new MMA Cadets is Katelyn Anthony of Mattapoisett.

Massachusetts Maritime Academy, located on Cape Cod, is a four-year state college of Engineering, International Business, Transportation, and Environmental Science.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your ideas earn you the respect of your colleagues. But you'll have to present some hard facts and figures if you hope to persuade those who make the big decisions to support you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Keep those bright Bull's eyes focused on the project at hand. Avoid distractions. There'll be lots of time for fun and games later. Expect to get welcome news on the 22nd.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might soon have to decide about moving a relationship from its current status to another level. Don't let anyone influence your decision. It must be yours and yours alone.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You can finally get off that emotional roller coaster and get back to focusing on your goals without interruptions through the rest of the week. A nice change is due by the 22nd.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Trying to make an impression on some people runs into a bit of a snag at first, but it all works out. An old and almost forgotten personal matter once again needs attention.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A rise in your energy level helps you finish an especially demanding task. Take some time now to spend with family and friends before starting a new project.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a good time to re-establish contact with trusted former associates who might be able to offer good advice regarding that career change you've been contemplating.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your resourcefulness combined with a calm, cool approach help you work your way out of a knotty situation and avoid a potentially serious misunderstanding.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A calm, quiet period allows you to recharge your energies. But on the 20th, you're ready to saddle up and gallop off in pursuit of your goals.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Family matters need your attention. Check things out carefully. There might still be unresolved tensions that could hinder your efforts to repair damaged relationships.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) It's a good time to take a stand and show as much passion on your own behalf as you do when arguing for the rights of others. You might be happily surprised by the reaction.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You bring sense and sensitivity to a confusing situation. Things settle down by the 20th, leaving you free to enjoy a weekend of fun and relaxation with friends and family.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a talent for being able to perceive possibilities where others see only problems.

Historic Walks Book

Walks Book #3 and #4 is now available for sale at the Mattapoisett Museum and Carriage House, 5 Church Street. This book combines two separate walks into one publication for a single $10 price. As with Walks Books #1 and #2, the new book includes many bits of history and stories about an earlier Mattapoisett. Walks #3 and #4 covers the general area north and west of the museum on Church Street.

All of the Walks Books are the work of Francis Rowland who was born and grew up in Mattapoisett some 90 years ago. Francis is indeed the town historian and he has willingly shared his memories in these books.

The Mattapoisett Historical Museum is most appreciative of Mr. Rowland's many contributions to the history of the town. It is people like Francis Rowland who make Mattapoisett "special."

In addition to the newest Walks Book, the museum also has a most interesting reprint of an old relief map of Buzzards Bay made in 1904. The map indicates a number of spots long lost to many memories. When framed, this map makes a great gift for locals and visitors. The museum is also an outlet for the new Ned's Point Lighthouse book written by Betty and Bert Theriault.

Remember: the Mattapoisett Museum and Carriage House is open Tuesday - Saturday, 1:00 to 4:00 pm. Be sure to come and see the special summer exhibit,
